

MATHCOUNTS[®]

George Washington was 6' 2" tall, and the height of the Washington Monument is about 555' 5". If you were to stack George Washington one on top of the other (as shown) until the stack first exceeded the top of the Washington Monument, by how many inches would the top-most Washington exceed the height of the monument?

